

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Disclosed herein is a workpiece holder for use with a rotatable lathe assembly. The workpiece holder comprises a housing with a base and two upwardly projecting outer sides. The first section is adapted to receive a workpiece to be machined and support the workpiece during the machining process. The support provided by the first section minimizes deflection of the workpiece and enhances the machining process.